

Sustainable

Lynn Pope of Lingle, Wyo., and Mike Norby of Lyman, Neb., discuss their organic food operations during a gathering of area sustainable food producers at the Yoder, Wyo., Community Center last Monday. The evening meal and program capped an afternoon of touring Meadow Maid Foods operations southwest of Yoder by personnel of the national Eat Well Guided Tour of America. Congressional staff and area consumers, as well as students and instructors of the University of Wyoming at Laramie, were among about 50 people who met for the final stop of the day. The Sustainable Table tour is promoting local and sustainable foods on its way from Hollywood, Calif., to the Farm Aid concert in New York on Sept. 8.
